

Dress Code

Attorneys, Parties, Corporate Representatives:

Attorneys, parties (except criminal defendants), and corporate representatives are required to wear standard business attire. For men, this includes a suit with coat and tie or a coat and tie with tailored slacks or khaki pants. A coat and tie with jeans or other denim pants are not acceptable. For women, this includes tailored suits and tailored dresses. Slacks are appropriate if part of a tailored suit. Slacks or skirts with a blouse or sweater, but without a jacket, are not acceptable. Extremely short skirts and other revealing clothing (tight, short, low-cut, thin) are not acceptable.

Jurors and Witnesses:

Jurors and Witnesses shall dress appropriately and respectfully for the courtroom. For men, other than uniformed law enforcement officers, this includes: a coat and, slacks or khaki pants. For women, other than uniformed law enforcement officers, this includes: tailored dresses; blouses or dress shirts with appropriate skirts, tailored slacks, or khaki pants. No shorts, jeans or other denim pants, overalls, scrubs, tee shirts, tank tops, midriff baring or other revealing or low cut clothing, extremely short skirts, sunglasses, flip-flops, or hats shall be permitted in the courtroom.

Spectators:

Spectators are required to dress appropriately and respectfully for the courtroom. Men are required to wear coats. No shorts, scrubs, tee shirts, tank tops, midriff baring or other revealing or low cut clothing, extremely short skirts, sunglasses, flip-flops, or hats shall be permitted in the courtroom
